ISLAND AIR EXTENDS CUSTOMERS A STAYCATION INVITATION: $48 and $54 ONE-WAY FARES ON ALL FLIGHTS, ALL ROUTES

HONOLULU – Island Air is inviting Hawaii residents and anyone whose heart is in the islands to enjoy a “staycation” in Hawaii with special Internet-only fares. The three day sale offers $48 one-way fares on select routes, and $54 one-way fares on all other routes including connecting and stopover flights, making it easier to keep Hawai'i's rural communities connected (both fares are before segment and security fees). These special rates are valid for travel from May 22 to June 30, 2009.

Bruce Wetsel, Island Air's Chief Operating Officer said, “Island Air is encouraging our neighbors to support our local economy, especially our smaller island communities that have been dealing with a higher cost of living and soaring gas prices for quite some time. We hope this special fare helps residents take care of personal business, visit with family, and bring their kids along if they had originally planned to take a ‘stay-at-home’ vacation without them.”

Fare is available only on islandair.com for three days: Thursday, May 21; Friday, May 22; and Saturday, May 23, 2009. Some restrictions apply and seats are limited. See islandair.com for details.

Island Air is Hawai'i's leading regional carrier, serving airports on all major Hawaiian Islands. Founded in 1980 to provide scheduled service between Princeville and Honolulu, the airline now offers 390 weekly flights between the islands of O'ahu (Honolulu International Airport), Maui (Kahului Airport and West Maui's Kapalua Airport), Moloka'i (Ho'olehua Airport), Lana'i (Lana'i City Airport), Kaua'i (Lihue Airport), and the Island of Hawai'i (Hilo International Airport and Kona International Airport). Island Air is committed to its island communities as well as providing warm and personalized service for its customers and those of its code-share partners Continental Airlines, Hawaiian Airlines, Mesa Air Group, and United Airlines.
